

After Bypass Surgery: Visits with Your Healthcare Team

After your coronary artery bypass surgery, you'll have regular follow-up visits with your healthcare team. Expect to schedule visits with:

- The surgeon. They will check your incisions.
- The heart doctor. This is to check your health and adjust your medicines.
- Your heart doctor or primary care provider. See them as often as advised.
- A cardiac rehab program. Your heart doctor may advise this. This is one of the best ways to help you get better after bypass surgery.
